Question 1

Which of the following political party led the movement for the formation of Punjabi Suba?

Options:

A. Congress

B. Lok Dal

C. Akali Dal

D. CPI

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Akali Dal'

- Akali Dal:
  - Akali Dal, a prominent Sikh political party, led the movement for the formation of a separate Punjabi Suba (state).
  - The demand was primarily based on linguistic and religious considerations, as the party sought a state where Punjabi speakers and Sikhs would be in the majority.
  - The movement included peaceful protests, civil disobedience, and negotiations with the central government, eventually leading to the creation of the state of Punjab in 1966.

🗦 Additional Information

- Congress:
  - The Indian National Congress was the ruling party at the time and did not lead the movement for the Punjabi Suba. They were initially resistant to the idea of creating a state based on linguistic or religious lines.
- Lok Dal:

- Lok Dal, primarily a party focused on the interests of farmers and rural areas, did not play a role in the movement for the formation of Punjabi Suba.
- CPI:
  - The Communist Party of India (CPI) was not involved in leading the movement for the Punjabi Suba. Their focus was more on class struggle and broader ideological issues rather than regional or linguistic statehood.

Question 3

What does BAMCEF stand for ?

Options:

- A. Backward and Muslim Communities Employees Federation
- B. Backward and Minority Communities Education Federation
- C. Backward and Minority Communities Employees Federation
- D. Backward and Majority Communities Employees Federation

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Backward and Minority Communities Employees Federation'

- Backward and Minority Communities Employees Federation:
  - BAMCEF stands for Backward and Minority Communities Employees Federation.
  - BAMCEF is an organization that represents the interests of backward and minority communities, particularly focusing on employees from these groups.
  - The organization aims to address and mitigate issues related to social justice, inequality, and discrimination faced by these communities in the workplace and society.
  - BAMCEF often works towards the upliftment and empowerment of backward and minority communities through various initiatives and advocacy efforts.

눩 Additional Information

- Incorrect Options:
  - Backward and Muslim Communities Employees Federation:
    - This option incorrectly specifies 'Muslim' instead of 'Minority'. BAMCEF is inclusive of all minority communities, not just Muslim communities.

- Backward and Minority Communities Education Federation:
  - This option incorrectly focuses on 'Education'. While education is a part of their advocacy, BAMCEF primarily represents employees, not just educational aspects.
- Backward and Majority Communities Employees Federation:
  - This option incorrectly uses 'Majority' instead of 'Minority'. BAMCEF focuses on minority communities, not the majority.

Options:

- A. Mayawati
- B. B.R. Ambedkar
- C. Jagjivan Ram
- D. Kanshi Ram

Answer: D

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Kanshi Ram'

- Kanshi Ram:
  - Kanshi Ram was the founder of the Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP), a political party in India that primarily represents the Bahujan community, including Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, and Other Backward Classes.
  - He founded the BSP in 1984 with the aim of social transformation and economic emancipation for marginalized communities in India.
  - Kanshi Ram's leadership and vision were instrumental in establishing the BSP as a significant political force in Indian politics, particularly in the state of Uttar Pradesh.

눩 Additional Information

- Mayawati:
  - Mayawati is a prominent Indian politician and a senior leader of the BSP, but she was not the founder. She succeeded Kanshi Ram as the party leader after his death and has served as the Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh several times.
- B.R. Ambedkar:
  - B.R. Ambedkar, a principal architect of the Indian Constitution, was a social reformer who championed the rights of Dalits and other marginalized communities but was not involved in the

Question 8

The model of transition in Russia, Central Asia and East Europe that was influenced by World Bank and the IMF came to be known as:

Options:

- A. Current Therapy
- B. Shock Therapy
- C. Fiscal Therapy
- D. Glasnost

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Shock Therapy'

- Shock Therapy:
  - Shock Therapy is an economic model implemented during the transition of Russia, Central Asia, and East Europe from state-controlled economies to market economies.
  - This model was heavily influenced by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund (IMF).
  - The approach involved rapid privatization, deregulation, and the withdrawal of state subsidies, aiming to quickly transform these economies into capitalist market economies.

- It was characterized by the sudden release of price and currency controls, the withdrawal of state subsidies, and the rapid privatization of previously public-owned assets.
- The outcomes of this approach were mixed, with some countries experiencing significant economic hardships and social upheavals during the transition period.

Additional Information

- Current Therapy:
  - Current Therapy is not a term associated with economic transition models. It generally refers to medical treatments and practices that are currently in use.
- Fiscal Therapy:
  - Fiscal Therapy involves the use of government spending and tax policies to influence the economy, but it does not describe the rapid transition approach used in post-Soviet states.
- Glasnost:
  - Glasnost, meaning "openness," was a policy introduced by Mikhail Gorbachev in the mid-1980s to increase transparency in government institutions and activities within the Soviet Union. It is not an economic model but rather a political reform policy.

Question 9

In which year was Mikhail Gorbachev elected as the General Secretary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union?

Options:

A. 1982

B. 1983

C. 1984

D. 1985

Answer: D

Solution:

The correct answer is '1985'.

- Mikhail Gorbachev's election as General Secretary:
  - Mikhail Gorbachev was elected as the General Secretary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in 1985.
  - This election marked the beginning of significant reforms in the Soviet Union, commonly known as Glasnost (openness) and Perestroika (restructuring).

• Gorbachev's leadership played a crucial role in ending the Cold War and eventually led to the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991.

눩 Additional Information

- Incorrect Options:
  - 1982: This year is associated with the death of Leonid Brezhnev, the previous General Secretary, and the brief tenure of Yuri Andropov who succeeded him.
  - 1983: Yuri Andropov was still in office during this year before his death in February 1984.
  - 1984: After Andropov's death, Konstantin Chernenko became the General Secretary. He served until his death in March 1985.
- Impact of Gorbachev's Policies:
  - Gorbachev's policies of Glasnost and Perestroika aimed to revitalize the Soviet economy and make the political system more transparent and open.
  - These policies led to more freedom of expression and the release of political prisoners, which ultimately weakened the central control of the Communist Party.

Question 10

Which of the following countries have not accepted Euro as the common currency?

Options:

- A. Denmark and Sweden
- B. Spain and Portugal
- C. Greece and Germany
- D. France and Austria

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Denmark and Sweden'.

• Denmark and Sweden:

- Denmark and Sweden are both members of the European Union (EU) but have not adopted the Euro as their common currency.
- Denmark has an opt-out from the Economic and Monetary Union (EMU) and continues to use the Danish krone.

• Sweden has not met the necessary criteria for Euro adoption and continues to use the Swedish krona.

눩 Additional Information

- Spain and Portugal:
  - Both Spain and Portugal are members of the Eurozone and have adopted the Euro as their official currency.
  - The Euro replaced the Spanish peseta and Portuguese escudo in 2002.
- Greece and Germany:
  - Greece and Germany are also members of the Eurozone and use the Euro as their common currency.
  - Greece adopted the Euro in 2001, and Germany was one of the original Eurozone members from 1999.
- France and Austria:
  - France and Austria are both part of the Eurozone and have adopted the Euro.
  - Both countries transitioned to the Euro in 1999, with physical currency introduced in 2002.

Question 11

The ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF) established in 1994, is the organization that carries out the coordination of:

Options:

- A. Trade and Finance
- B. Friendship and Solidarity
- C. Security and Foreign Policy
- D. Investment and Labour

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Security and Foreign Policy'

- ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF):
  - Established in 1994, the ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF) is a key platform for dialogue and consultation on political and security issues in the Asia-Pacific region.
  - The ARF's main objectives are to foster constructive dialogue and consultation on political and security issues, and to contribute to efforts towards confidence-building and preventive diplomacy in the region.

• The forum is attended by 27 countries, including the 10 ASEAN member states, and other key players such as the United States, China, Japan, South Korea, Russia, and the European Union.

눩 Additional Information

- Trade and Finance:
  - The ARF does not primarily focus on trade and finance; these areas are generally handled by other ASEAN mechanisms and forums such as the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) and the ASEAN Free Trade Area (AFTA).
- Friendship and Solidarity:
  - While the ARF does promote friendly relations and solidarity among its members, its primary focus is on security and foreign policy rather than on fostering general friendship and solidarity.
- Investment and Labour:
  - Investment and labor issues are typically addressed through other ASEAN bodies and agreements, such as the ASEAN Comprehensive Investment Agreement (ACIA) and the ASEAN Labour Ministers Meeting (ALMM), rather than the ARF.

Question 12

Which of the following nations adopted an 'Open Door' policy and economic reforms in 1978?

Options:

A. South Korea

B. China

C. USA

D. Japan

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'China'.

- China's Open Door Policy and Economic Reforms of 1978:
  - In 1978, China, under the leadership of Deng Xiaoping, adopted the 'Open Door' policy which marked the beginning of its economic reforms.
  - This policy aimed to open China to foreign businesses that wanted to set up in the country, and set the stage for China's rapid economic growth.

- The reforms included the decentralization of economic decision-making, the introduction of market mechanisms, and the establishment of Special Economic Zones (SEZs) to attract foreign investment.
- These changes led to significant increases in foreign trade and investment, transforming China into one of the world's largest economies.

- South Korea:
  - South Korea's significant economic transformation, known as the "Miracle on the Han River," began in the 1960s under the leadership of Park Chung-hee, focusing on export-oriented industrialization rather than an open door policy.
- USA:
  - The USA has always had a relatively open economic policy, but it did not undergo a specific, transformative "Open Door" policy in the 1970s.
- Japan:
  - Japan's major economic reforms occurred in the post-World War II era, particularly during the 1950s and 1960s, focusing on rebuilding its economy and becoming a leading global industrial power, not in the 1978 period.

Options:

- A. Jawaharlal Nehru
- B. Sheikh Mujib-ur-Rahman
- C. General Yahya Khan
- D. Zulfikar Ali Bhutto

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is Sheikh Mujib-ur-Rahman

- Six-Point Movement:
  - Sheikh Mujib-ur-Rahman, the leader of the Awami League, presented the Six-Point Movement in 1966, aiming for greater autonomy for East Pakistan.

- The movement was a response to the political and economic disparities between East and West Pakistan.
- The six points included demands for federalism, separate currencies or fiscal policies, control over taxation and trade, and paramilitary forces for East Pakistan.
- This movement was significant as it laid the groundwork for the independence movement of Bangladesh.

눩 Additional Information

- Jawaharlal Nehru:
  - Jawaharlal Nehru was the first Prime Minister of India and a key figure in the Indian independence movement, not directly involved in Pakistan's political affairs in 1966.
- General Yahya Khan:
  - General Yahya Khan was the President of Pakistan from 1969 to 1971 and was involved in the military rule and the subsequent events leading to the independence of Bangladesh.
- Zulfikar Ali Bhutto:
  - Zulfikar Ali Bhutto was a prominent Pakistani politician who later became the Prime Minister of Pakistan. He was involved in the political landscape but did not propose the six points.

Options:

- A. Roosevelt, Churchill and Krushchev
- B. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin
- C. Deng Xiaoping, Churchill and Stalin
- D. Kennedy, Attlee and Stalin

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin'.

- Yalta Conference:
  - The Yalta Conference was held in February 1945, during World War II, where the leaders of the Allied powers met to discuss the post-war reorganization of Europe.
  - The 'Big Three' leaders at the Yalta Conference were Franklin D. Roosevelt (President of the United States), Winston Churchill (Prime Minister of the United Kingdom), and Joseph Stalin (Premier of the Soviet Union).
  - One of the significant outcomes of the conference was the decision to establish the United Nations, an international body aimed at maintaining peace and security.

Additional Information

- Other Options:
  - Roosevelt, Churchill and Krushchev: Nikita Krushchev was not a leader during the Yalta Conference; he rose to prominence in the Soviet Union after Stalin's death in 1953.
  - Deng Xiaoping, Churchill and Stalin: Deng Xiaoping was a Chinese leader who came into power much later, in the late 1970s, and had no involvement in the Yalta Conference.
  - Kennedy, Attlee and Stalin: John F. Kennedy became the U.S. President in 1961, Clement Attlee succeeded Churchill as Prime Minister of the UK after World War II, and neither were leaders at the time of the Yalta Conference.

Question 17

The International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) was established in:

Options:

A. 1951

B. 1953

C. 1955

D. 1957

Answer: D

Solution:

The correct answer is '1957'

- Establishment of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA):
  - The IAEA was established on July 29, 1957, as an autonomous organization under the United Nations.
  - The main goal of the IAEA is to promote the peaceful use of nuclear energy and to prevent its use for military purposes, including nuclear weapons.
  - The agency also aims to promote high standards of safety and security in nuclear activities.

房 Additional Information

- Other Options:
  - o 1951:
    - This year is significant for the establishment of various international organizations, but not for the IAEA.

- o 1953:
  - This year marks the proposal by U.S. President Dwight D. Eisenhower in his "Atoms for Peace" speech, which eventually led to the creation of the IAEA, but the agency itself was not established in this year.
- o 1955:
  - This year is notable for the first International Conference on the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy held in Geneva, which was a significant step towards the creation of the IAEA.

Question 18

Which of the following organization provides loans and grants to member countries for human development (education and health), agriculture and rural development infrastructure and environment protection?

Options:

A. WTO

B. World Bank

C. IMF

D. UNO

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'World Bank'

• World Bank:

- The World Bank is an international financial institution that provides loans and grants to the governments of low and middle-income countries for the purpose of pursuing capital projects.
- Its primary goal is to reduce poverty by providing loans to developing countries for human development (education and health), agriculture and rural development, infrastructure, and environment protection.
- The World Bank's financial products and policy advice help countries to improve their economic management and reduce poverty.
- Projects funded by the World Bank aim to improve the living standards and economic prospects of people in the developing world.

• WTO (World Trade Organization):

- The WTO is an international organization that regulates international trade. It deals with the global rules of trade between nations and ensures that trade flows as smoothly, predictably, and freely as possible.
- It does not provide loans or grants for development projects.

• IMF (International Monetary Fund):

- The IMF is an international organization that aims to promote global monetary cooperation, secure financial stability, facilitate international trade, promote high employment and sustainable economic growth, and reduce poverty.
- While it provides financial assistance to countries facing balance of payments problems, it does not specifically focus on human development projects like the World Bank.

• UNO (United Nations Organization):

- The UNO is an international organization founded in 1945 to promote peace, security, and cooperation among countries. It encompasses various specialized agencies, including the UNDP (United Nations Development Programme), which works on development issues.
- However, the UNO itself does not directly provide loans and grants for development projects; this is typically done through its specialized agencies.

Question 19

What is the full form of START?

Options:

- A. Strategic Arms Reduction Toll
- B. Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty
- C. Strategic Arms Reduction Tactics
- D. Strategic Arms Reduction Tax

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty'

• Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty:

- The Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty (START) refers to a series of agreements between the United States and the Soviet Union (later Russia) aimed at reducing and limiting strategic offensive arms.
- These treaties were part of efforts to reduce the risk of nuclear conflict and promote global security.
- The first START treaty was signed on July 31, 1991, and came into force on December 5, 1994.
- Subsequent treaties, like START II, and New START, have built upon the original framework to ensure further reductions and verification measures.

눩 Additional Information

- Strategic Arms Reduction Toll:
  - This option is incorrect as there is no recognized international agreement or treaty by this name.
  - The term "toll" implies a fee or charge, which is not relevant in the context of arms reduction agreements.
- Strategic Arms Reduction Tactics:
  - This option is incorrect because it refers to methods or strategies rather than a formal treaty.
  - The context of START is about formal agreements, not tactical measures.
- Strategic Arms Reduction Tax:
  - This option is incorrect as it introduces the concept of taxation, which is not related to arms control or reduction agreements.
  - Taxes are financial charges imposed by a government, while START deals with international security and arms limitation.

Question 20

Which of the following is a threat to Global security?

Options:

- A. Human Rights
- B. Arms Control
- C. Terrorism
- D. Disarmament

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Terrorism'

- Terrorism:
  - Terrorism is a significant threat to global security as it involves the use of violence and intimidation, especially against civilians, to achieve political aims.
  - It destabilizes regions, disrupts economies, and leads to loss of life and property.
  - Terrorist activities can lead to widespread fear, social disruption, and heightened security measures, impacting international relations and global peace.
  - Global efforts to combat terrorism involve international cooperation, intelligence sharing, and counter-terrorism strategies to prevent and respond to terrorist threats.

• Human Rights:

- Human rights refer to the basic rights and freedoms to which all humans are entitled. They are fundamental to ensuring dignity, equality, and justice.
- While human rights violations can exacerbate conflicts, they are not a direct threat to global security but rather an issue of social justice and governance.

• Arms Control:

- Arms control involves international agreements to manage and regulate the proliferation of weapons, particularly weapons of mass destruction.
- Effective arms control measures can enhance global security by reducing the likelihood of armed conflict and the spread of dangerous weapons.

• Disarmament:

- Disarmament refers to the reduction or withdrawal of military forces and weapons. It aims to reduce the potential for military conflict and enhance global peace and security.
- While disarmament efforts contribute to global security, they are not themselves a threat but a means to mitigate the threats posed by excessive militarization and weapons proliferation.

- Indigenous People and their Regions:
  - Mapuche Chile: The Mapuche are indigenous inhabitants of south-central Chile and southwestern Argentina. Their culture is rich with traditions and they have a history of resistance against Spanish and Chilean colonization.
  - Kuna Tribe East of Panama Canal: The Kuna people, also known as Guna, are indigenous to the San Blas Islands and the mainland coast of Panama, east of the Panama Canal. They are known for their vibrant culture and the traditional textile art form called "mola".
  - Indigenous People of Cordillera Region Philippines: The Cordillera region in the Philippines is home to several indigenous groups collectively known as the Igorot. This region is known for its mountainous terrain and rich cultural heritage.
  - Tribal People of the Chittagong Hill Tracts Bangladesh: The Chittagong Hill Tracts in southeastern Bangladesh are home to various indigenous groups, including the Chakma, Marma, and Tripuri. These groups have distinct cultural practices and languages.

눩 Additional Information

- Other Options Explained:
  - Mapuche East of Panama Canal: This is incorrect because the Mapuche people are native to Chile and not Panama.
  - Kuna Tribe Bangladesh: This is incorrect as the Kuna tribe is indigenous to the San Blas Islands of Panama and not Bangladesh.
  - Indigenous People of Cordillera Region Chile: This is incorrect since the Cordillera region indigenous people are from the Philippines.
  - Tribal People of the Chittagong Hill Tracts Philippines: This is incorrect as the Chittagong Hill Tracts are located in Bangladesh, not the Philippines.

Question 22

When was the Kyoto Protocol signed?

Options:

A. 1992

B. 1995

C. 1997

D. 1999

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is '1997'

- Kyoto Protocol:
  - The Kyoto Protocol is an international treaty that commits state parties to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, based on the premise that global warming exists and human-made CO2 emissions have caused it.
  - It was adopted on December 11, 1997, in Kyoto, Japan, and entered into force on February 16, 2005.
  - The Protocol is a significant step in the fight against climate change, setting binding obligations on industrialized countries to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions.

눩 Additional Information

- 1992:
  - This year is significant for the Earth Summit held in Rio de Janeiro, where the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) was adopted, but not the Kyoto Protocol.
- 1995:
  - This year saw the first Conference of the Parties (COP1) to the UNFCCC held in Berlin, which paved the way for the Kyoto Protocol, but the Protocol itself was not signed this year.
- 1999:
  - This year falls after the adoption of the Kyoto Protocol. The focus during this period was on the Protocol's ratification and implementation processes.

Question 23

When was the Energy Conservation Act passed?

Options:

A. 1998

B. 1999

C. 2001

D. 2005

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is '2001'.

• Energy Conservation Act, 2001:

- The Energy Conservation Act was enacted by the Government of India in 2001 to promote energy efficiency and conservation.
- The Act led to the establishment of the Bureau of Energy Efficiency (BEE) which is responsible for implementing policies and programs related to energy conservation.
- The Act provides a framework for regulating the use of energy and promoting energy-saving measures across various sectors including industry, transportation, and buildings.
- It aims to reduce energy consumption and enhance energy security by encouraging efficient use of energy resources.

눩 Additional Information

- Option 1 (1998):
  - The year 1998 does not have any significant legislation related to energy conservation in India.
  - The focus in 1998 was more on economic reforms and the liberalization of various sectors rather than energy conservation.
- Option 2 (1999):
  - No major energy conservation legislation was passed in 1999.
  - During this period, the government continued to focus on other economic and industrial policies.
- Option 4 (2005):
  - While 2005 saw many advancements in various sectors, the Energy Conservation Act was already in place by this time.
  - The focus in 2005 was on the implementation and improvement of the existing energy conservation measures under the 2001 Act.

Options:

- A. World Economic Forum
- B. World Social Forum
- C. World Cultural Forum
- D. G-20

collegebatch.com

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'World Social Forum.'

• World Social Forum:

- The World Social Forum (WSF) is an annual meeting of civil society organizations that was first held in Brazil in 2001.
- The forum serves as a platform for discussing alternatives to neo-liberal globalization, emphasizing human rights, environmental sustainability, labor rights, and social justice.
- It brings together a diverse group of activists, including those focused on human rights, the environment, labor, youth, and women's issues, who are united in their opposition to neo-liberal policies.
- The WSF's motto is "Another World is Possible," reflecting its mission to promote more equitable and sustainable global policies.

눩 Additional Information

• World Economic Forum:

- The World Economic Forum (WEF) is an annual meeting held in Davos, Switzerland, where business, political, and academic leaders discuss global economic issues.
- The WEF is often seen as a platform that supports neo-liberal policies and globalization, making it the opposite of the WSF in many respects.

• World Cultural Forum:

- The World Cultural Forum focuses on cultural exchange and dialogue, aiming to promote understanding and cooperation among different cultures.
- While it addresses important cultural issues, it does not primarily focus on activism against neoliberal globalization.

• G-20:

- The G-20 is an international forum for governments and central bank governors from 19 countries and the European Union.
- It focuses on global economic governance and financial stability, often promoting policies aligned with globalization and free-market principles.

Question 25

Which of the statement is true about globalization?

Options:

- A. Globalization is purely an economic phenomenon
- B. Globalization is purely a cultural phenomenon.

- C. Globalization is a multi-dimensional phenomenon.
- D. Globalization has had a universal impact on all states and societies.

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Globalization is a multi-dimensional phenomenon.'

• Globalization is a multi-dimensional phenomenon:

- Globalization encompasses various dimensions, including economic, cultural, political, and technological aspects, rather than being limited to just one field.
- Economically, it involves the integration of national economies through trade, investment, and capital flows.
- Culturally, globalization leads to the exchange of ideas, values, and cultural practices across borders, influencing societies worldwide.
- Politically, it affects how states interact with each other, often leading to the formation of international organizations and agreements.
- Technologically, globalization is propelled by advancements in communication and transportation technologies, making it easier for people, goods, and information to move across borders.

눩 Additional Information

• Globalization is purely an economic phenomenon:

- This view is too narrow because it ignores other significant dimensions of globalization, such as cultural, political, and technological influences.
- While economic integration is a crucial aspect, it does not fully capture the multifaceted nature of globalization.

• Globalization is purely a cultural phenomenon:

- This perspective is also limited, as it overlooks the economic, political, and technological dimensions that are equally important in understanding globalization.
- Cultural exchanges are an essential part of globalization, but they do not represent the entire phenomenon.

• Globalization has had a universal impact on all states and societies:

- This statement is not entirely accurate because the impact of globalization varies widely among different states and societies.
- Factors such as economic development, political stability, and cultural contexts influence how globalization affects a particular region.
- While globalization has a broad reach, its effects are not uniform or universal.

The UN was founded as a successor to which of the following?

Options:

- A. League of Nations
- B. Concert of Europe
- C. Council of Europe
- D. Hague Conference

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is 'League of Nations'.

• League of Nations:

- The United Nations (UN) was founded as a successor to the League of Nations.
- The League of Nations was established after World War I with the aim of promoting international cooperation and achieving peace and security.
- However, it was unable to prevent the outbreak of World War II, leading to its eventual replacement by the United Nations in 1945.
- The United Nations was designed to be more effective in preventing conflicts and fostering international collaboration.

房 Additional Information

• Concert of Europe:

- The Concert of Europe was an informal diplomatic network established in the early 19th century after the Napoleonic Wars.
- Its purpose was to maintain the balance of power in Europe and prevent the rise of a single dominant state.
- It was not a formal organization and did not have the structure or mandate that the League of Nations or the United Nations had.
- Council of Europe:

- The Council of Europe is a regional organization founded in 1949, separate from the United Nations.
- Its primary aim is to promote human rights, democracy, and the rule of law in Europe.
- It is not a successor to the League of Nations and operates independently from the UN.

• Hague Conference:

- The Hague Conference on Private International Law is an international organization established in 1893 to work towards the unification of the rules of private international law.
- It is a separate entity and has a specific focus on legal and judicial cooperation between states, rather than broad international peacekeeping and security.

  - United Nations Design Programme:
    - This is incorrect as there is no entity within the United Nations specifically named the United Nations Design Programme.
  - United News Development Programme:
    - This is incorrect and does not exist as a program under the United Nations.

Question 32

North-East region consists of seven States called .

Options:

- A. Seven Sisters
- B. Seven Stars
- C. Seven Seas
- D. Seven Brothers

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Seven Sisters'

- Seven Sisters:
  - The North-East region of India is commonly referred to as the 'Seven Sisters'. This term is used to denote the seven states in this region, which are Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, and Tripura.
  - This term was coined by Jyoti Prasad Saikia, a journalist in Tripura, during a radio talk show in 1972.
  - The Seven Sisters are known for their unique cultural diversity, rich heritage, and significant tribal population.
  - The region is geographically isolated from the rest of India and is connected via a narrow corridor called the Siliguri Corridor or "Chicken's Neck".

눩 Additional Information

• Seven Stars:

• This term is generally associated with astronomy and refers to the Pleiades star cluster, which is also known as the Seven Sisters. It is not related to the North-East region of India.

• Seven Seas:

• The term 'Seven Seas' is an ancient phrase used to describe the world's largest bodies of water. It does not pertain to any specific region or group of states in India.

Seven Brothers:

• This term does not have any recognized significance in relation to the North-East region of India. It may be used in different contexts or folklore but is incorrect in this scenario.

Options:

A. China, Nepal and Bangladesh

B. China, Bhutan and Bangladesh

C. China, Myanmar and Bangladesh

D. China, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is 'China, Myanmar and Bangladesh'

- North-East region boundaries:
  - The North-East region of India comprises eight states: Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Sikkim, and Tripura.
  - This region shares international boundaries with several countries, including China, Myanmar, and Bangladesh.
  - Arunachal Pradesh shares its boundary with China, while Nagaland, Manipur, Mizoram, and Arunachal Pradesh share boundaries with Myanmar. Tripura, Meghalaya, Assam, and Mizoram share boundaries with Bangladesh.

눩 Additional Information

- Other options:
  - China, Nepal and Bangladesh:

■ Nepal does not share a boundary with any of the North-East states of India. Nepal shares its boundary with the states of Uttarakhand, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, West Bengal, and Sikkim, which are not part of the North-East region.

• China, Bhutan and Bangladesh:

- While Bhutan shares a boundary with the North-Eastern state of Arunachal Pradesh, it is not included in the correct grouping as Myanmar is a more significant neighboring country to the North-East region of India.
- China, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh:
  - Sri Lanka is an island nation located to the south of India and does not share any land boundary with the North-East region or any part of India.

A. 1961

B. 1963

C. 1965

D. 1967

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 1963.

- Creation of the State of Nagaland:
  - Nagaland was officially declared the 16th state of India on December 1, 1963.
  - The formation of Nagaland as a state was the result of long-standing demands by the Naga people for autonomy and recognition of their distinct cultural identity.
  - The state was created by combining the Naga Hills district of Assam and the Tuensang frontier division.

눩 Additional Information

- 1961:
  - This year is significant in the context of the statehood process, as the 13th Amendment Act, which facilitated the creation of Nagaland, was passed in 1962.
- 1965:

- This year is not directly relevant to the creation of Nagaland but is a period of early development for the newly formed state.
- 1967:
  - By this time, Nagaland had already been established as a state and was undergoing further integration and development within the Indian Union.

Question 36

The North-East serves as gateway to which of the regions mentioned below?

Options:

- A. South-East Asia
- B. South Asia
- C. West Asia
- D. Europe

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is 'South-East Asia'

- North-East as a Gateway:
  - The North-East region of India serves as a strategic gateway to South-East Asia.
  - This region shares international borders with several countries, including Myanmar, which is considered the entry point to South-East Asia.
  - Due to its geographical location, the North-East is crucial for India's Act East Policy, aimed at enhancing economic and strategic relations with South-East Asian countries.
  - Connectivity projects like the India-Myanmar-Thailand Trilateral Highway and the Kaladan Multi-Modal Transit Transport Project highlight the importance of this region in linking India with South-East Asia.

눩 Additional Information

South Asia:

- South Asia generally refers to the region comprising countries like India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, Sri Lanka, and the Maldives.
- The North-East region of India does not specifically serve as a gateway to South Asia as it is already part of this region.

• West Asia:

- West Asia, or the Middle East, includes countries like Saudi Arabia, Iran, Iraq, and Israel.
- The North-East region of India is geographically distant from West Asia and does not serve as a direct gateway to this region.

• Europe:

- Europe is a continent located to the northwest of India, comprising countries such as the United Kingdom, France, Germany, and Italy.
- The North-East region of India does not have any direct geographical or strategic links to Europe and thus does not act as a gateway to this continent.

Question 37

Who among the following entered into Standstill Agreement with India in November 1947?

Options:

A. Maharaja of Manipur

B. Nizam of Hyderabad

C. Nawab of Junagadh

D. Maharaja of Kashmir

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Nizam of Hyderabad'

• Nizam of Hyderabad:

- The Nizam of Hyderabad, Mir Osman Ali Khan, was the ruler of the princely state of Hyderabad during the time of India's independence in 1947.
- In November 1947, the Nizam entered into a Standstill Agreement with the newly independent Dominion of India. This agreement was meant to maintain the status quo and delay the decision on Hyderabad's accession to either India or Pakistan.
- The Standstill Agreement was intended to buy time for the Nizam while he sought to maintain Hyderabad's independence or negotiate better terms for accession.

• Eventually, after a period of political maneuvering and a police action by the Indian government, Hyderabad was integrated into India in 1948.

눩 Additional Information

- Maharaja of Manipur:
  - The Maharaja of Manipur signed an Instrument of Accession with India on August 11, 1947, and did not enter into a Standstill Agreement.
- Nawab of Junagadh:
  - The Nawab of Junagadh, Muhammad Mahabat Khanji III, acceded to Pakistan in September 1947. However, Junagadh was later integrated into India after a plebiscite in February 1948.
- Maharaja of Kashmir:
  - The Maharaja of Kashmir, Hari Singh, signed the Instrument of Accession to India on October 26, 1947, when his state was invaded by tribal forces from Pakistan. There was no Standstill Agreement with India.

Question 38

Which of the following Princely States were reluctant to sign the Instrument of Accession with India?

Options:

- A. Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Punjab
- B. Kerala, Hyderabad, Bombay
- C. Assam, Goa, Tripura
- D. Hyderabad, Junagadh, Kashmir

Answer: D

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Hyderabad, Junagadh, Kashmir'

• Reluctance of Princely States:

- During the time of India's independence in 1947, there were over 500 princely states, each ruled by its own monarch.
- The Indian government, led by Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, endeavored to integrate these states into the Indian Union.
- While most states acceded to India without much resistance, a few were reluctant to sign the Instrument of Accession, leading to significant political and sometimes military interventions.

• Hyderabad:

- Hyderabad, under Nizam Mir Osman Ali Khan, was one of the largest and wealthiest princely states. The Nizam initially chose to remain independent rather than join India or Pakistan.
- In September 1948, India launched a military operation called 'Operation Polo' to annex Hyderabad into the Indian Union.

• Junagadh:

- The Nawab of Junagadh, a Muslim ruler of a Hindu-majority state, decided to accede to Pakistan, which led to significant unrest and opposition from the populace.
- India intervened and conducted a plebiscite in February 1948, where the majority of the population voted to join India.

• Kashmir:

- The Maharaja of Kashmir, Hari Singh, initially wished to remain independent but faced an invasion by tribal militias from Pakistan.
- He eventually signed the Instrument of Accession to India in October 1947 in exchange for military assistance, leading to the first Indo-Pak war.

눩 Additional Information

• Incorrect Options:

- (Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Punjab):
  - These regions were part of British India and not princely states, so the question of signing the Instrument of Accession does not apply.
- (Kerala, Hyderabad, Bombay):
  - Kerala and Bombay were parts of British India, while Hyderabad was a princely state that was reluctant to join India.
- (Assam, Goa, Tripura):
  - Assam and Tripura were already part of British India, and Goa was a Portuguese colony until 1961, so these regions were not princely states.

Question 39

The 'two-nation theory' was advanced by which of the following party?

Options:

A. Janata Dal

B. Muslim League

C. Socialist Party

D. Swatantra Party

Answer: B

Solution:

Key Points

• Muslim League:

- The Muslim League was a political party in British India that played a crucial role in the creation of Pakistan.
- The party, under the leadership of Muhammad Ali Jinnah, advanced the 'two-nation theory' which posited that Muslims and Hindus were distinct nations with their own customs, religion, and traditions; therefore, Muslims should have their own separate state.
- This theory was a significant factor leading to the partition of India and the creation of Pakistan in 1947.

눩 Additional Information

• Janata Dal:

• The Janata Dal is a political party in India that was formed in 1988. It was primarily involved in the Indian political landscape post-independence and had no role in the 'two-nation theory'.

• Socialist Party:

• The Socialist Party in India was formed around the same time as the independence movement and advocated for socialist principles, focusing on the welfare of the people, but it did not promote the 'two-nation theory'.

• Swatantra Party:

• The Swatantra Party was established in 1959, advocating for free enterprise and individual liberty. It had no connection to the 'two-nation theory' which was a pre-independence concept.

Question 44

Statement I: The Second Five Year Plan stressed on heavy industries.

Statement II: A bulk of industries like electricity, railways, steel could be developed by the private sector.

- A. Both Statement I and Statement II are correct
- B. Both Statement I and Statement II are incorrect
- C. Statement I is correct, but Statement II is incorrect

D. Statement I is incorrect, but Statement II is correct

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Statement I is correct, but Statement II is incorrect'

• Second Five Year Plan:

- The Second Five Year Plan (1956-1961) of India aimed at developing heavy industries and building a strong industrial base in the country.
- This plan was based on the Mahalanobis model, which emphasized the importance of heavy industries like steel, machinery, and infrastructure.
- The focus was on creating a self-reliant economy with a strong emphasis on public sector enterprises, which would lead to long-term economic growth.

• Development by Private Sector:

- Statement II is incorrect as the bulk of heavy industries, such as electricity, railways, and steel, were primarily developed by the public sector during the Second Five Year Plan.
- The private sector was not seen as capable of handling the massive capital investment and long gestation periods required for these industries at that time.
- The Indian government played a crucial role in setting up and nurturing these industries to build a foundation for future economic development.

🗦 Additional Information

• Other Plan Details:

- The First Five Year Plan (1951-1956) focused on agriculture and irrigation to address food shortages.
- The Second Plan shifted focus to industrialization, aiming to reduce dependence on foreign imports and to build indigenous capacity in heavy industries.
- The plan also emphasized the development of the public sector as a means to achieve rapid industrialization and economic growth.

• Public vs. Private Sector:

- During the early years of planning in India, the public sector was seen as the primary driver for industrialization and infrastructure development.
- The private sector played a complementary role, particularly in consumer goods and light industries.
- Over time, the role of the private sector has increased, but the initial focus was on public sector-led growth.

Question 46

Which of the following treaty was rejected by India as discriminatory as it prevented only non-nuclear countries from acquiring nuclear weapons?

- A. Intermediate Range Nuclear Force Treaty
- B. Non Proliferation Treaty
- C. Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty
- D. Strategic Offensive Reduction Treaty

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Non Proliferation Treaty'

- Non Proliferation Treaty (NPT):
  - The NPT is an international treaty aimed at preventing the spread of nuclear weapons and promoting peaceful uses of nuclear energy.
  - It was opened for signature in 1968 and entered into force in 1970. The treaty has been signed by 191 countries.
  - India rejected the NPT as it considered it discriminatory. The treaty allows only the five recognized nuclear-weapon states (the USA, Russia, China, France, and the UK) to possess nuclear weapons, while non-nuclear-weapon states are prohibited from developing or acquiring them.
  - India argued that this creates a divide between nuclear and non-nuclear states and does not address the disarmament obligations of the nuclear-weapon states.

눩 Additional Information

- Intermediate Range Nuclear Force Treaty (INF):
  - Signed in 1987 between the USA and the USSR, the INF Treaty required the elimination of all ground-launched ballistic and cruise missiles with ranges of 500 to 5,500 kilometers.
  - It was primarily a bilateral agreement and did not address nuclear proliferation issues globally.
- Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty (START):
  - START was a series of treaties between the USA and the USSR (later Russia) aimed at reducing and limiting strategic offensive arms.
  - While significant in arms control, these treaties were bilateral and did not address the concerns of non-nuclear-weapon states.
- Strategic Offensive Reduction Treaty (SORT):
  - SORT, also known as the Moscow Treaty, was signed in 2002 between the USA and Russia to reduce their deployed strategic nuclear warheads.
  - Like START, it was a bilateral agreement and did not involve other countries or address global non-proliferation concerns.

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is 'Pakistan'.

- Shimla Agreement of 1972:
  - The Shimla Agreement was signed between India and Pakistan on 2nd July 1972.
  - The primary aim was to lay the foundation for peaceful relations and to resolve issues between the two nations post the 1971 war, which led to the creation of Bangladesh.
  - The agreement emphasized the need for both countries to settle their differences through bilateral negotiations and to maintain the sanctity of the Line of Control in Jammu and Kashmir.
  - The agreement also called for respect for each other's territorial integrity and sovereignty.

🗦 Additional Information

- Nepal:
  - Nepal is a neighboring country to India, but it was not involved in the Shimla Agreement.
  - India and Nepal have a history of friendly relations and various treaties, including the 1950 Treaty of Peace and Friendship.
- China:
  - China and India have had a complex relationship involving border disputes, but China was not a party to the Shimla Agreement.
  - Notable agreements between India and China include the Panchsheel Agreement of 1954.
- Bangladesh:
  - Bangladesh gained independence from Pakistan in 1971 with the help of India.
  - While Bangladesh was a significant outcome of the 1971 war, the Shimla Agreement was specifically between India and Pakistan.
