Question 1

Which of the following arguments are correct about tribes in India ?

(A) Adivasis were always the oppressed group, as they are now.

(B) Tribes were absorbed in Hindu society through Sanskritisation.

(C) Tribes occupied a special trade niche, trading forest produce, salt and elephants.

(D) Adivasis often exercised dominance over the plains people through their capacity to raid them.

Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

A. (A), (B) and (D) only

B. (B), (C) and (D) only

C. (A), (B), (C) and (D)

D. (A), (C) and (D) only

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is -(B), (C), and (D) only

- Tribes were absorbed in Hindu society through Sanskritisation
 - The process of Sanskritisation refers to the adoption of Hindu cultural practices and rituals by tribal groups to elevate their social status.
 - This process often led to the integration of tribes into mainstream Hindu society.
- Tribes occupied a special trade niche
 - Historically, tribes were engaged in the trade of forest produce, salt, and elephants.
 - They played a crucial role in the economic network by supplying these essential goods to the plains people.
- Adivasis often exercised dominance over the plains people
 - Tribal groups, due to their strategic geographical locations and martial capabilities, frequently conducted raids on the plains.
 - This gave them a position of power and sometimes dominance over the settled agricultural communities.

誟 Additional Information

- Concept of Adivasis
 - The term Adivasi refers to the indigenous tribal population of India.
 - They have a unique cultural identity and historical legacy distinct from the mainstream society.
- Sanskritisation
 - Introduced by sociologist M. N. Srinivas, the concept explains how lower caste and tribal communities adopt upper-caste Hindu practices to improve their social standing.
 - This phenomenon has significantly influenced the social structure and cultural dynamics of Indian society.
- Historical Trade Practices
 - Tribes traditionally engaged in trade with settled communities, providing resources not available in agrarian societies.
 - These exchanges were vital for the sustenance and economy of both tribal and non-tribal populations.

Question 2

In which year did the first Backward Classes Commission headed by Kaka Kalelkar submit its report ?

Options:

A. 1956

B. 1953

C. 1950

D. 1958

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is - 1953

🔗 Key Points

- 1953
 - The first Backward Classes Commission was set up by the Government of India in January 1953.
 - This commission was chaired by Kaka Kalelkar, a noted Indian social reformer and educationist.
 - The commission was tasked with investigating the conditions of the socially and educationally backward classes in India.
 - It submitted its report to the President of India in March 1955.

誟 Additional Information

- Recommendations of the Kaka Kalelkar Commission
 - Identified criteria for determining backwardness, including low social position in the traditional caste hierarchy, lack of general educational advancement among the major section of a caste or community, and inadequate representation in government services.
 - Recommended measures such as reservation of seats in educational institutions and public services.
 - Stressed the need for the establishment of separate hostels for backward class students.
- Impact and Follow-up
 - Although the Kaka Kalelkar Commission's report was not fully implemented, it laid the foundation for subsequent commissions and policies addressing the issue of backward classes in India.
 - The Mandal Commission, established in 1979, built upon the work of the Kalelkar Commission and significantly influenced the reservation policies in India.

Question 3

In every society, some individuals have a greater share of valued resources – money, property, education, prestige etc., – than others. These social resources can be divided into different forms of capital. Identify them from the following.

- (A) Economic capital
- (B) Cultural capital
- (C) Social capital
- (D) Educational capital

Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

A. (A), (B) and (D) only

B. (A), (B) and (C)

C. (A), (C) and (D) only

D. (B), (C) and (D) only

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A), (B) and (C)

🔗 Key Points

- Economic capital
 - Includes money, property, and other financial assets.
- Cultural capital
 - Comprises education, skills, and other cultural knowledge.
- Social capital
 - Involves networks of relationships and social connections.

 Additional Information

- Other forms of capital
 - Symbolic capital: Refers to prestige, honor, and recognition within a society.
 - Human capital: Includes individual attributes like health, knowledge, and abilities.
- Importance of capital in social stratification
 - Different forms of capital contribute to social mobility and status.
 - Accumulation and exchange of capital influence one's position in the social hierarchy.

Question 4

Which of the following statements are true about stereotypes ?

- (A) Stereotypes are often applied to ethnic and racial groups.
- (B) Stereotypes fix whole groups into single entity.
- (C) Stereotypes refuse to recognise the variation across individuals.

(D) Stereotypes are partly colonial constructs.

Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

- A. (A), (B) and (D) only
- B. (A), (B) and (C) only
- C. (A), (B), (C) and (D)
- D. (B), (C) and (D) only

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A), (B), (C) and (D)

🔗 Key Points

• Stereotypes

- Often applied to ethnic and racial groups, leading to generalized assumptions about individuals within those groups.
- They tend to fix whole groups into a single entity, ignoring the individual differences and complexities within the group.
- Refuse to recognize the variation across individuals, leading to a homogenized and often inaccurate view of the group.
- Partly colonial constructs, created and propagated during colonial times to justify and maintain control over colonized populations.

눩 Additional Information

• Impact of Stereotypes

- Can lead to discrimination and social injustice as individuals are judged based on generalized beliefs rather than their personal attributes.
- Often result in self-fulfilling prophecies where individuals conform to the stereotypes associated with their group.
- Can negatively impact mental health and self-esteem of those who are stereotyped.
- Countering Stereotypes
 - Promoting awareness and education about the diversity and individuality within groups.
 - Encouraging critical thinking and questioning of generalized beliefs.
 - Fostering inclusive environments where diverse perspectives are valued and respected.

Question 5

What was the opinion of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar about local selfgovernment during the drafting of the Constitution ?

Options:

A. He believed that local elites and upper castes would exploit the downtrodden masses further.

B. He thought that local self-government will empower the downtrodden masses.

C. He believed that local self-government will ensure equal representation of all social groups.

D. He believed that local self-government will lead to economic prosperity.

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is - He believed that local elites and upper castes would exploit the downtrodden masses further.

- Exploitation by Elites
 - Dr. B.R. Ambedkar was concerned that local elites and upper castes would continue to exploit the downtrodden masses.
 - He believed that the existing social hierarchy would hinder the effectiveness of local selfgovernment in achieving true equality.
- Historical Context
 - His views were shaped by the historical oppression and social injustices faced by the lower castes in India.
 - He was wary of replicating these inequalities at the local governance level.

눩 Additional Information

- Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's Contributions
 - He was the principal architect of the Indian Constitution and a staunch advocate for social justice.
 - His efforts led to the inclusion of several provisions aimed at protecting the rights of marginalized communities.
- Local Self-Government in India
 - Local self-government refers to the decentralized administration at the village or town level, known as Panchayati Raj institutions.
 - These institutions were intended to bring governance closer to the people and ensure participatory democracy.
- Constitutional Provisions
 - The 73rd and 74th Constitutional Amendments (1992) were significant in strengthening local self-governments.
 - These amendments provided for greater representation and empowerment of local bodies.

Question 6

Which of the following is not an example of community identity?

Options:

- A. Membership of family
- B. Membership of religious group
- C. Membership of a professional group
- D. Membership of caste group

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - Membership of a professional group

🔗 Key Points

- Membership of a professional group
 - Community identity is typically formed based on common cultural, ethnic, or religious backgrounds.
 - Professional groups are formed based on occupational or career interests rather than cultural or social identity.
 - While professional groups can foster a sense of belonging, they do not constitute community identity in the traditional sociological sense.

눩 Additional Information

• Community Identity

- It is often based on factors such as ethnicity, religion, and caste.
- Examples include membership in a family, religious group, or caste group, which provide a sense of shared heritage and common values.
- Professional Groups
 - These groups are typically formed around a shared profession or career field, such as doctors, engineers, or teachers.
 - While they can offer professional networking and support, they do not inherently provide the cultural or social bonds that define community identity.

(A) Communal means something related to a community.

(B) Communalism is about religion, not politics.

(C) A devout believer may or may not be communal.

(D) Communalism results in constructing identity of large and diverse groups as singular and homogeneous.

Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

A. (A), (B) and (D) only

B. (A), (B) and (C) only (3)

C. (A), (C) and (D) only

D. (B), (C) and (D) only

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A), (C) and (D) only

🔗 Key Points

- (A) Communal means something related to a community.
 - This statement is correct as the term "communal" refers to anything pertaining to a community or society.
- (C) A devout believer may or may not be communal.

• This statement is true. A person can be deeply religious (devout) without promoting communalism.

- (D) Communalism results in constructing identity of large and diverse groups as singular and homogeneous.
 - This statement is accurate. Communalism often involves viewing diverse groups as one homogeneous entity, ignoring internal diversity.

誟 Additional Information

• Communalism:

• Refers to a system where communities are organized around shared religious or ethnic identities.

• Often leads to social tensions and conflicts when one group tries to assert dominance over others.

• Religion and Politics:

- While communalism is often associated with religion, it is also deeply intertwined with politics.
- Political leaders may exploit communal sentiments to gain support, leading to polarization.
- Homogeneous Identity Construction:
 - Communalism simplifies complex social identities into singular categories, which can ignore the nuanced realities of the group.

Question 9

- D. (B), (C) and (D) only

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A), (B), (C), and (D)

• Gender

- Discrimination based on gender includes unequal treatment in employment, education, and social roles.
- Women and non-binary individuals often face disparities in pay, career advancement, and representation.
- Ethnicity
 - Discrimination based on ethnicity can result in social exclusion, racism, and limited access to resources.
 - Ethnic minorities may face prejudice in various aspects of life including housing, healthcare, and law enforcement.
- Disability
 - People with disabilities often encounter barriers in accessibility, employment, and social acceptance.
 - Discrimination can manifest in the form of inadequate accommodations and social stigmas.
- Caste
 - In certain societies, caste-based discrimination leads to social stratification and limited opportunities for lower-caste individuals.
 - It affects access to education, employment, and social integration.

눩 Additional Information

- Gender Inequality
 - Gender inequality is prevalent globally and affects various sectors including politics, where women's representation is often lower.
 - Efforts to mitigate this include policies promoting gender parity and empowerment programs.
- Ethnic Discrimination
 - Ethnic discrimination is a major social issue that can lead to systemic inequalities and social unrest.
 - Anti-discrimination laws and multicultural policies aim to reduce ethnic disparities.
- Disability Rights
 - Global movements advocate for the rights of disabled individuals, emphasizing equal opportunities and accessibility.
 - Legislation such as the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) aims to protect and promote disability rights.
- Caste System
 - The caste system, particularly in South Asia, perpetuates social hierarchies and impacts socioeconomic mobility.
 - Affirmative action policies and social reforms aim to dismantle caste-based discrimination.

 - It also plays a crucial role in the social audit of various projects and programs implemented in the village.
- Meetings of Gram Sabha
 - Regular meetings of the Gram Sabha are mandated by law to ensure active participation of the community in local governance.

- The frequency of these meetings can vary from state to state in India, but it generally meets at least twice a year.
- Financial Powers
 - While the Gram Sabha does not collect central taxes, it does have the power to approve the annual budget and the audit reports of the Gram Panchayat.

Question 11

How did the Supreme Court enhance Fundamental Rights, particularly relating to the Right to Life under Article 21 ?

Options:

- A. By restricting individual liberty.
- B. By narrowing the scope of Article 20.
- C. By expanding the interpretation to include various aspects of a quality life.
- D. By expanding the scope of Fundamental Duties.

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - By expanding the interpretation to include various aspects of a quality life

🔗 Key Points

- Expanding Interpretation of Article 21
 - The Supreme Court of India has significantly broadened the scope of Article 21 by interpreting the Right to Life to include various facets that contribute to a dignified and quality life.
 - This interpretation goes beyond mere survival to encompass the right to a dignified existence.
- Landmark Judgements
 - In the Maneka Gandhi case (1978), the Court held that the right to life includes the right to live with human dignity and all that goes along with it.
 - In the Francis Coralie Mullin case (1981), the Supreme Court ruled that the right to life includes the right to live with basic human dignity and the bare necessities of life.
- Inclusion of Various Rights
 - The interpretation of Article 21 has been expanded to include the right to education, health, privacy, and a clean environment.
 - These elements are considered essential for leading a life of dignity and well-being.

눩 Additional Information

• Article 21 of the Indian Constitution

- Article 21 states: "No person shall be deprived of his life or personal liberty except according to the procedure established by law."
- This article is a fundamental right and is part of the basic structure of the Constitution.
- The right to life is not confined to mere animal existence but includes the right to live with human dignity.

• Judicial Activism

- The judiciary has played a crucial role in expanding the scope of fundamental rights through various landmark judgements.
- Judicial activism has ensured the protection and enhancement of fundamental rights, making them more comprehensive and inclusive.

• Impact on Policy and Governance

- The expanded interpretation of Article 21 has influenced various policies and laws aimed at improving the quality of life for citizens.
- Government initiatives and schemes often draw upon the principles laid down by the judiciary to ensure a life of dignity for all.

Options:

A. Tiplut Nongbri

B. Virginius Xaxa

C. Verrier Elwin

D. G.S. Ghurye

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is - Tiplut Nongbri

- Tiplut Nongbri
 - Tiplut Nongbri is a well-known sociologist who has made significant contributions to the study of tribal societies.
 - She remarked that tribal institutions in themselves need not necessarily be democratic in their structure and functioning.

• This observation highlights the diversity and complexity of tribal governance systems, which may not always align with modern democratic principles.

誟 Additional Information

- Tribal Governance
 - Tribal governance structures vary widely across different regions and communities.
 - While some tribes may have democratic processes for decision-making, others may follow hierarchical or consensus-based approaches.
- Verrier Elwin
 - Verrier Elwin was a British-born Indian anthropologist, who studied tribal cultures extensively, especially in central India.
 - He advocated for the preservation of tribal traditions and cultures, often emphasizing their unique social structures.
- G.S. Ghurye
 - G.S. Ghurye was one of the founding figures of sociology in India, known for his work on caste and tribal communities.
 - He provided critical insights into the integration of tribal societies within the broader Indian social framework.

Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

A. (A), (B) and (D) only

B. (A), (B) and (C) only

C. (A), (B), (C) and (D)

D. (B), (C) and (D) only

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A), (B) and (D) only

🔗 Key Points

- Bihu
 - Celebrated in Assam, Bihu is a set of three festivals marking the agricultural cycle.
 - Bohag Bihu (Rongali Bihu) marks the Assamese New Year and the spring festival.
 - Bhogali Bihu (Magh Bihu) celebrates the end of the harvesting season.
 - Kongali Bihu (Kati Bihu) is a modest and solemn occasion reflecting a period of scarcity.
- Baisakhi
 - Celebrated in Punjab, Baisakhi marks the beginning of the harvest season of the Rabi crops.
 - It is also significant for the Sikh community as it commemorates the formation of the Khalsa Panth.
- Pongal
 - Pongal is a four-day harvest festival celebrated in Tamil Nadu.
 - It marks the end of the traditional farming season and gives thanks to the Sun God for the harvest.
 - The festival includes cooking the dish Pongal, a sweet rice dish, symbolizing prosperity.

Additional Information

- Holi
 - Holi is known as the festival of colors and is primarily a Hindu festival celebrated across India.
 - It signifies the arrival of spring and the end of winter but is not directly related to agricultural practices.

Question 15

Which of the following are the indicators of globalisation of agriculture ?

- (A) Contract farming
- (B) Increased dependence of farmers on fertilisers and pesticides
- (C) Promotion of indigenous knowledge for agriculture
- (D) Entry of multinationals into agricultural sector
- Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

- A. (A), (B) and (C) only
- B. (A), (B) and (D) only
- C. (A), (B), (C) and (D)
- D. (B), (C) and (D) only

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A), (B) and (D) only

🔗 Key Points

- Contract farming
 - Involves agreements between farmers and multinational corporations (MNCs) for the production and supply of agricultural products.
 - Ensures a predefined price for the produce, which benefits farmers by providing a stable income.
- Increased dependence of farmers on fertilizers and pesticides
 - Globalization leads to the adoption of modern agricultural techniques which often include the use of chemical fertilizers and pesticides.
 - This increases yield but also makes farmers dependent on these inputs provided by global companies.
- Entry of multinationals into the agricultural sector
 - Multinational companies bring advanced technologies and investment into the agricultural sector. This enhances productivity and provides better market access for farmers.

- Promotion of indigenous knowledge for agriculture
 - This is not typically considered an indicator of globalization.
 - Focuses on traditional farming practices and local knowledge, which are often overshadowed by global agricultural practices.
- Effects of globalization on small-scale farmers
 - Globalization can lead to both positive and negative impacts on small-scale farmers.
 - While it provides access to larger markets, it also increases competition and may lead to the marginalization of small farmers.

Question 16

Under which of the following systems is all work broken down into its smallest repetitive elements and divided amongst the workers ?

Options:

- A. Binary System
- B. Corporate System
- C. Flexi System
- D. Scientific Management System

Answer: D

Solution:

The correct answer is - Scientific Management System

🔗 Key Points

- Scientific Management System
 - Developed by Frederick Winslow Taylor, a pioneer in the field of industrial engineering.
 - Focuses on breaking down work into its smallest repetitive elements.
 - These elements are then standardized and divided among workers to increase efficiency and productivity.
 - Employs techniques such as time and motion studies to optimize task performance.

誟 Additional Information

- Principles of Scientific Management
 - Science, not rule of thumb: Establishing scientific methods for each element of work rather than relying on traditional methods.
 - Harmony, not discord: Promoting cooperation between workers and management.
 - Cooperation, not individualism: Ensuring all workers cooperate to achieve organizational goals.

- Development of each individual: Providing training and development to enhance worker efficiency.
- Applications of Scientific Management
 - Widely used in manufacturing and production industries to streamline processes.
 - Applied in administrative tasks to improve workflow and reduce redundancy.
 - Helps in setting performance standards and incentive systems to motivate workers.

Question 17

Match the concepts (List-I) with their respective descriptions (List-II) :

List - I		List - II
(Concepts)		(Descriptions)
(A)	Liberalisation	(I)	Economy based on information and technology
(B)	Transnational Corporations	(II)	Mixing of global and local culture
(C)	Glocalisation	(III)	Companies producing goods and services in multiple countries
(D)	Weightless Economy	(IV)	Opening up of the economy to the global markets

Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

- A. (A) (I), (B) (II), (C) (III), (D) (IV)
- B. (A) (IV), (B) (II), (C) (III), (D) (I)
- C. (A) (IV), (B) (III), (C) (II), (D) (I)
- D. (A) (III), (B) (IV), (C) (I), (D) (II)

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A) - (IV), (B) - (III), (C) - (II), (D) - (I)

ዖ Key Points

• Liberalisation - Opening up of the economy to the global markets

- Refers to the relaxation of government restrictions in areas such as trade and industry.
- It allows for a more free-market economy and increased foreign investment.

• Transnational Corporations - Companies producing goods and services in multiple countries

- These corporations operate across national boundaries and have a global presence.
- Examples include multinational companies like Apple, Google, and Toyota.
- Glocalisation Mixing of global and local culture
 - This concept refers to the adaptation of international products or practices to fit local culture and preferences.
 - Example: McDonald's menu varies significantly across different countries to cater to local tastes.

• Weightless Economy - Economy based on information and technology

- It emphasizes the role of knowledge and information rather than physical goods.
- Includes sectors such as software, digital services, and intellectual property.

눩 Additional Information

• Liberalisation

- It often involves reducing tariffs, import quotas, and government regulations.
- Aim is to create a more competitive and efficient market environment.
- Transnational Corporations
 - These companies often have significant influence on the global economy and politics.
 - They can benefit from economies of scale and access to a larger customer base.
- Glocalisation
 - It is a blend of "globalization" and "localization."
 - Helps in creating products or services that have global appeal but meet local needs.
- Weightless Economy
 - Driven by advancements in technology and the growth of the internet.
 - Prominent in sectors like e-commerce, online services, and digital media.

Question 18

Who among the following is credited with the invention of the printing press ?

Options:

A. Leonardo da Vinci

B. Johann Gutenberg

C. Galileo Galilei

D. Isaac Newton

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is - Johann Gutenberg

🔗 Key Points

- Johann Gutenberg
 - He is credited with the invention of the printing press around 1440.
 - His most notable work, the Gutenberg Bible, was printed in 1455 and is considered a masterpiece of typography.
 - Gutenberg's invention revolutionized the way books were produced, making them more accessible and affordable, leading to a rise in literacy and the spread of knowledge.

눩 Additional Information

- Leonardo da Vinci
 - He was a renowned polymath known for his contributions to art, science, and engineering, but he did not invent the printing press.
- Galileo Galilei
 - He was an Italian astronomer, physicist, and engineer who played a major role in the scientific revolution but did not invent the printing press.
- Isaac Newton

Fill in the blank with the correct answer from the options given below.

Options:

- A. Sanskritisation
- B. Colonisation
- C. Westernisation
- D. Secularisation

Answer: C

Solution:

ዖ Key Points

- Westernisation
 - Refers to the transformation of Indian society and culture under the influence of British rule.
 - Includes changes in technology, institutions, ideology, and values.
 - Encompasses the adoption of Western modes of education, legal systems, and administrative structures.
 - Often results in the blending of Western and traditional Indian elements.

誟 Additional Information

- Colonisation
 - Refers to the establishment of control over a region or country by a foreign power.
 - Involves economic exploitation, political domination, and cultural change.
 - While Westernisation is a part of colonisation, they are not synonymous.
- Sanskritisation
 - Describes the process by which lower castes adopt the practices and rituals of higher castes to improve their social status.
 - Is an internal process within Indian society, not influenced by external forces like Westernisation.
- Secularisation
 - Refers to the process by which religious institutions, practices, and beliefs lose their social significance.
 - Involves the separation of religion from political, educational, and other societal institutions.

Question 27

In Begum Rokeya Sakhawat's book "Sultana's Dream" we find the following excerpt, "Where are the men ?..., where they ought to be...we shut our men indoors...just as we are kept in the zenana ?" What do these linesdescribe ?

Options:

A. Double standard imposed by male dominated society

B. Comparison of work done by men and women in a male dominated society

- C. Reversal of roles of Gender
- D. Challenging patriarchy

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - Reversal of roles of Gender

🔗 Key Points

• Reversal of roles of Gender

- The excerpt from Begum Rokeya Sakhawat's book "Sultana's Dream" illustrates a scenario where traditional gender roles are reversed.
- In this reversal, men are confined to the domestic sphere, just as women were traditionally kept in the zenana.
- This is a direct inversion of the gender norms prevalent in a patriarchal society.
- The purpose of this role reversal is to critique the existing gender inequalities and highlight the absurdity of confining any gender to the home.

誟 Additional Information

• Begum Rokeya Sakhawat

- Begum Rokeya was a prominent Bengali writer and social worker who advocated for women's rights and education.
- Her works, including "Sultana's Dream," often explored themes of gender equality and the empowerment of women.

• Patriarchy

- Patriarchy is a social system in which men hold primary power and predominate in roles of political leadership, moral authority, social privilege, and control of property.
- It often results in the subjugation of women and the establishment of rigid gender roles.

• Zenana

- The term "zenana" refers to the part of a house reserved for the women of the household in South Asian cultures.
- It symbolizes the spatial and social confinement of women in a patriarchal society.

Question 28

For which of the following reasons is the city preferred over village ?

- (A) Decline of common resources in villages
- (B) Opportunity for earning cash income
- (C) Sufficient work opportunity
- (D) Relative Anonymity
- Choose the correct answer from the options given below :

Options:

A. (A), (B) and (D) only

B. (B), (C) and (D) only

C. (A), (B), (C) and (D)

D. (A), (C) and (D) only

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - (A), (B), (C) and (D)

🔗 Key Points

- Decline of common resources in villages
 - Many villages experience depletion of community resources such as water bodies, forests, grazing lands, and shared infrastructure, leading people to migrate to cities.
 - Limited access to modern agricultural methods and declining productivity further push villagers towards urban employment opportunities.
- Opportunity for earning cash income
 - Cities provide numerous job opportunities in the industrial, service, and corporate sectors.
 - Unlike villages, where income is primarily based on agriculture and traditional occupations, cities offer diverse employment options.
- Sufficient work opportunity
 - Urban areas have a higher concentration of businesses, factories, and educational institutions that generate employment.
 - People migrate from villages to cities in search of better wages and stable employment.
- Relative Anonymity
 - Unlike villages, where social life is closely knit, cities provide a sense of privacy and independence.
 - People in cities can maintain their personal lives without constant social scrutiny.
- _____

Question 29

Which of the following factors was not responsible for unification of India under Colonial rule ?

Options:

A. Socio-Cultural

- B. Economic
- C. Political
- D. Administrative

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is - Socio-Cultural

Key Points

- Socio-Cultural
 - The unification of India under colonial rule was primarily driven by economic, political, and administrative factors.
 - While socio-cultural factors did play a role in shaping Indian society, they were not the main driving force behind the unification.
 - The British focused more on establishing control through economic exploitation, political dominance, and administrative integration.

Additional Information

- Economic
 - The British introduced new economic policies that unified different regions under a common economic framework.
 - These policies included the introduction of a uniform land revenue system and the establishment of railways and telegraphs.
- Political
 - The British established centralized control through the implementation of laws and governance structures that were uniform across the country.
 - This political centralization was essential for maintaining control over the vast territory of India.
- Administrative
 - The British set up a structured administrative system that included a network of civil services, police, and judicial systems.
 - This administrative framework helped in enforcing British policies and laws uniformly across India.

Question 30

Which of the following factors was not considered significant during industrialisation in independent India?

Options:

A. Development of heavy and machine-making industries

- B. Expansion of the public sector
- C. Presence of a large cooperative sector
- D. Role of coastal cities for trading purpose

Answer: D

Solution:

The correct answer is - Presence of a large cooperative sector

🔗 Key Points

- Presence of a large cooperative sector
 - During the industrialisation phase in independent India, the focus was primarily on the development of heavy and machine-making industries.
 - The expansion of the public sector was also given significant emphasis to stimulate industrial growth and reduce dependence on foreign imports.
 - Coastal cities played a crucial role in facilitating trading purposes and enhancing India's trade capacity.
 - However, the large cooperative sector was not considered a significant factor during this phase of industrialisation.

눩 Additional Information

- Development of heavy and machine-making industries
 - This was seen as essential for achieving self-reliance and reducing foreign dependence.
 - Industries such as steel, machinery, and heavy engineering were prioritized.
- Expansion of the public sector
 - The public sector was expanded to control the commanding heights of the economy.
 - This included sectors like iron and steel, heavy machinery, and infrastructure development.
- Role of coastal cities for trading purposes
 - Coastal cities like Mumbai, Kolkata, and Chennai were vital for international trade.
 - They served as major ports for import and export activities, boosting industrial growth.

What does the term 'liberalisation policy' refer to in the given passage ?

Options:

- A. Regulation of State subsidies
- B. Regulation of market forces
- C. Regulation of social welfarism
- D. De-regulation of market forces
- Answer: D

Solution:

The correct answer is - De-regulation of market forces

🔗 Key Points

• De-regulation of market forces

- The term liberalisation policy refers to the process of reducing or eliminating government regulations and restrictions in an economy to allow for a free and efficient marketplace.
- This policy aims at enhancing the role of private enterprises in the economy by de-regulating market forces.
- De-regulation leads to increased competition, innovation, and efficiency in various sectors.
- By removing constraints, businesses can operate more freely, which can lead to economic growth and development.

誟 Additional Information

- Economic Reforms
 - Liberalisation is often part of broader economic reforms which may include privatisation and globalisation.
 - These reforms are aimed at making the economy more market-oriented and expanding the role of the private sector.
- Historical Context
 - Many countries adopted liberalisation policies in the late 20th century as part of their economic strategies.
 - This shift was often driven by the need to improve economic performance and integrate with the global economy.
- Impact on Economy
 - The impact of liberalisation can be significant, leading to increased foreign investment, technological advancements, and economic diversification.
 - However, it can also lead to challenges such as inequality and market instability if not managed properly.

Question 35

What is the central political vision reflected in the economic policies underpinning Globalisation ?

What is the central political vision reflected in the economic policies underpinning Globalisation ?

Options:

A. Free enterprise

- B. State subsidies
- C. Centralised power
- D. State regulation

Answer: A

Solution:

The correct answer is - Free enterprise

🔗 Key Points

- Free enterprise
 - The concept of free enterprise is central to the economic policies underpinning Globalisation.
 - It emphasizes minimal government intervention in business activities, allowing the market forces of supply and demand to drive the economy.
 - This vision supports the idea that businesses operate best when they are free to compete, innovate, and respond to consumer needs without excessive regulation.
 - Globalisation aims to create a global market where goods, services, and capital can move freely, promoting economic growth and efficiency.

Additional Information

- State subsidies
 - While state subsidies can support certain industries, they are generally seen as contrary to the principles of free enterprise and Globalisation.
 - Subsidies often distort market competition and can lead to inefficiencies.
- Centralised power
 - Centralised power involves significant government control over the economy, which is the opposite of the free enterprise model.
 - This approach can hinder innovation and flexibility in the market.
- State regulation
 - Although some level of state regulation is necessary for market stability and consumer protection, excessive regulation is seen as a barrier to the free enterprise principles of Globalisation.
 - Excessive regulation can stifle competition and economic growth.

Question 36

What is the economic measure that accompanied the collapse of the socialist world and the advent of Globalisation ?

What is the economic measure that accompanied the collapse of the socialist world and the advent of Globalisation ?

Options:

- A. Conservative measures
- B. Welfare measures
- C. Neo-liberal measures
- D. Protectionist measures

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - Neo-liberal measures

🤌 Key Points

- Neo-liberal measures
 - These measures are characterized by policies that emphasize the role of free markets, deregulation, and privatization.
 - The aim is to reduce the role of the state in economic affairs and increase the influence of private enterprises.
 - These policies became prominent with the decline of socialist economies and the rise of globalization in the late 20th century.

 Additional Information

- Globalisation
 - Globalisation refers to the process of increased interconnectedness and interdependence of the world's markets and businesses.
 - This phenomenon is driven by international trade, investment, and aided by information technology.
 - It leads to a more integrated global economy with fewer trade barriers and more free flow of goods, services, and capital.
- Impact on Socialist Economies
 - Many socialist economies transitioned to market-oriented economies as part of the global trend towards liberalization.
 - This transition often involved significant economic reforms including the adoption of neo-liberal measures.
 - Examples include the economic transformations in Eastern Europe, Russia, and China in the late 20th and early 21st centuries.

Question 37

What major political change is highlighted in the passage ?

What major political change is highlighted in the passage ?

Options:

- A. Collapse of Welfare State
- B. Collapse of Capitalist State
- C. Collapse of Socialist State
- D. Collapse of trade protectionism

Answer: C

Solution:

The correct answer is - Collapse of Welfare State

🤌 Key Points

• Collapse of Welfare State

- The passage indicates significant changes in the political landscape, specifically highlighting the decline of the welfare state.
- A welfare state refers to a government that plays a key role in the protection and promotion of the economic and social well-being of its citizens.
- The collapse signifies a shift away from policies that prioritize social welfare programs such as healthcare, education, and social security.
- This change often leads to increased privatization and reduced government intervention in social services.

눩 Additional Information

• Welfare State

- Historically, the concept of the welfare state emerged in the early 20th century as a response to the social and economic challenges of industrialization and urbanization.
- Key characteristics include government responsibility for providing a safety net for citizens, including unemployment benefits, pensions, and healthcare.
- Prominent examples of welfare states include countries like Sweden, Denmark, and Norway, known for their extensive social programs.

• Factors Leading to Collapse

- Economic pressures such as recession and increasing national debt can strain the resources available for welfare programs.
- Political ideologies favoring free-market policies and reduced government spending contribute to the decline of the welfare state.
- Globalization and technological advancements have also influenced the reduction in welfare state provisions due to changing economic landscapes.

Options:

- A. Durkheim
- B. C.W. Mills
- C. Bourdieu
- D. Weber

Answer: B

Solution:

The correct answer is - C.W. Mills

🔗 Key Points

• C.W. Mills

- Charles Wright Mills was a prominent American sociologist who introduced the concept of the sociological imagination.
- The term "sociological imagination" refers to the ability to see the relationship between individual experiences and larger social forces.
- Mills argued that sociology helps us understand how personal troubles (individual challenges) are linked to public issues (broader societal problems).
- This perspective allows individuals to place their personal experiences within a wider social and historical context.

誟 Additional Information

- Personal Troubles vs. Public Issues
 - Personal troubles are private problems experienced within the character of the individual and the range of their immediate relations with others.
 - Public issues are problems that transcend the individual and are collective interests or values felt to be threatened.
 - For example, unemployment can be viewed as a personal trouble for an individual, but when large numbers of people are unemployed, it becomes a public issue that requires societal intervention.
- Sociological Imagination
 - The sociological imagination enables us to grasp history and biography and the relations between the two within society.
 - It is a critical tool for understanding how societal structures impact individual lives and vice versa.

• This concept encourages a deeper understanding of how societal norms, policies, and institutions influence personal experiences.
